Headteacher's Message

Welcome back to the last half term of this academic year - one that will be filled with lots of learning and fun.

On Monday, I attended a very interesting meeting in Leeds for SENCOs (Special Educational Needs Coordinators), which outlined a lot of the changes being made to special needs provision, both nationally and countywide. This will be the last of these networks that I will attend, as I am pleased to announce that Mrs Fineran will be taking on the role of SENCO in school from September. She begins her training at this end of this month and I know she will do a tremendous job leading on special needs provision in school.

You may be aware that each year, schools submit data to the Department of Education. This includes: assessments for children at the end of Early Years (all areas of learning), end of KS1 (reading, writing, Maths), and KS2 (writing). As part of this process, local authorities visit schools every few years to moderate teacher judgements, to ensure they are robust. This week our EYFS and KS2 judgements were moderated, and I am delighted to say that the feedback from both moderations was very positive and our judgements were deemed to be accurate. We are incredibly proud of our children and their achievements.

Practicing for the summer play has begun and all of our KS2 pupils have been given parts; it is already looking and sounding great and the children seem very excited. We are hoping to provide some costumes but it may be that we will require some from home. We will send home details of anything needed in the next couple of weeks.

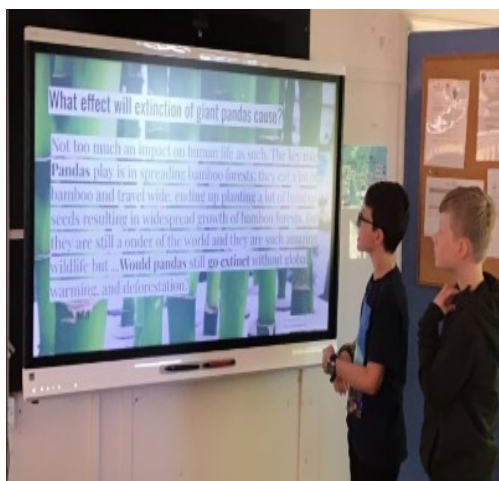

We have welcomed Kai into school this week, and all of the children have made him very welcome. He has settled into Class 2 brilliantly and our children have been their usual welcoming selves.

You will all have received the letter about staffing next year. Just to clarify the TA hours: Mrs Alexander and Mrs Carter will be working all day Monday to Friday; Miss Tubb, Miss Woodcock and Mrs Morris mornings Monday to Friday; and Mrs Hunt all day Thursday and Friday. Sorry for any confusion caused.

Next week, Year 6 will be on their residential visit to East Barnby, and I am lucky enough to be with them all week! Mrs Comito will be teaching Year 5 in my absence on Monday and Tuesday. I will keep in regular contact with school during that time, but I know everyone will be fine whilst we're off having fun climbing and scrambling along riverbanks! Keep your eye on Twitter and Facebook for photos.

Lastly, I had a meeting with FOSS last night to plan for the Summer Fayre on Sunday 7th July, and it sounds like it is going to be another fantastic event. Please let the office or a member of FOSS know if you can help out, if only for an hour.

Have a lovely weekend.

PE kits in school on Fridays for All Stars cricket

On Friday 14th and Friday 21st June, All Stars Cricket will be holding cricket sessions in school for all years. Our first session was this morning, and was a great success, with all the children participating really well and enjoying learning new cricket skills on the field. Please could you ensure that your child has their PE kit in school the next two Fridays.

We recommend in general that all children keep their PE kits in school at all times, bringing them home to wash at weekends and/or half-terms, as we do hold impromptu PE lessons and events at times.

Ice-cream Fridays the rest of this half term

Starting today, we will be holding Ice-Cream Fridays each Friday at the end of school for the rest of this half term. Please remember to send your child to school with some coins if they would like to buy an ice lolly or ice-cream! FOSS would be grateful of any volunteers to help with selling ice-creams. If you can help out at all, please could you let Jo Graham, Caroline Clements or the school office know. Many thanks in advance for your support.

Class 1 Cake Sale money raised

A fantastic £93.25 was raised just before half-term in the Class 1 Cake Sale! Thank you to all who provided cakes, those who helped set up and sell, and to everyone for buying cakes. The next cake sale will be the Class 3 Cake Sale on Thursday 20th June (at the end of Sports Day), so more goodies on sale then.
